Follow Me: The Who, Where, and What of Discipleship
Luke 5:27–32

Opening Reflection

Think about your own spiritual journey.

- Who has discipled or invested in you spiritually?
- How did their influence shape your faith?

Write your thoughts:

Read the Passage

Take time to read Luke 5:27–32 slowly.

As you read, underline or note anything that stands out.

- What catches your attention?
- What do you notice about Jesus and the people around Him?

Write your observations:

Who Needs Discipling?

In this passage, Jesus interacts with three groups:

- Levi (an obvious outsider)
- Sinners (those living far from God)
- Pharisees (religious but self-righteous)

Reflect:

- Which of these groups do you most naturally connect with? Why?
- Which group do you tend to avoid? Why?

Now think personally:

- Who in your life fits into each of these categories?
- Who might God be calling you to intentionally invest in?

Write names or initials:

Where Does Discipleship Happen?

Discipleship in this passage happens in everyday places:

- At work
- Around a table
- In normal conversations

Reflect:

- Where do you spend most of your time during the week?
- Which of those places could become opportunities for discipleship?

List a few specific places in your life:

What Does Discipleship Produce?

Jesus makes His mission clear: calling sinners to repentance.

Reflect deeply:

- How have you typically defined discipleship?
- Has it been more about gaining knowledge or living on mission?

Evaluate your life:

- When was the last time you had a spiritual conversation with someone far from God?
- When was the last time you helped someone take a step toward Jesus?

Write your honest thoughts:

Personal Application

Take a moment to prayerfully consider:

- Who is one person God is placing on your heart?
- Where will you intentionally engage them?
- What is one step you can take this week?

Write your commitment:

Prayer

Write out a short prayer to God:

- Ask for boldness
- Ask for opportunities
- Ask for a heart that reflects Jesus' mission

Your prayer:

Final Reflection

Jesus' call is simple but powerful: “Follow Me.”

- What does following Jesus look like in your life right now?
- What needs to change for you to live more missionally?

Write your response:
